

Louis did not formally respond to the questions but he provided the following, by email:

29 September 2015

Hello Jenn Roberts,

Thank you for your questionnaire. My regrets for not answering you sooner.

Good questions, and thoroughly thought out. It brought to my attention a new perspective on issue pertaining to cyclist as well as to transportation issues in the City of Whitehorse. And to be honest it would be insincere for me to respond to the specifics of the questions, without first familiarizing myself with the City's TDM. Thank you for the link, I see that it is quite extensive and is based on many years of study. I will certainly have to bring myself up to speed so to speak on the plan, as well as the many others the City proposes or is in the midst of delivering.

Suffice to say that I do support a broad and varied transportation infrastructure, beyond the automobile. As a smaller City we have the luxury of trying new things without the economic scale imposed by bigger City centres. One of my goals is to encourage the idea that a City should promote, facilitate and foster opportunities both social and economic. And I believe in doing so, the City participate in the community and engaging its citizens to participate as well. I would like to see a collaborative and informative process that ensures that the stakeholder, YOU, can make informed decisions on the City's future direction.

As City Councillor, I look forward in hearing more about your efforts and ideas in regards to cycling and how they can be integrated into the TDM.

Best regards

Louis Gagnon
Your City Your Councillor